The issue causing the loss of prime with my Volvo d12 looks to have been the lower fuel filter. While manually priming the truck I built enough pressure for fuel to spray out between the fuel filter and the housing. When I removed the fuel filter, I observed the rubber gasket was "swollen",

I own a 2004 Volvo with the Volvo D12 engine. I have @565K and no problems as of yet. The engine does not have the pulling power of a cat or whatever but I knew this when I bought it. It does however get excellent fuel mileage and the motor is not quite as hard to work on as people think.

Crack the line loose and crank the engine, if you have fuel then you know the transfer pump is getting fuel. Next go to the fuel pump itself, there will be a line on the back of the pump which is your fuel return line. Crack this line loose and verify that you are getting fuel there.

Prime the fuel system by pumping the hand priming pump on the fuel filter housing until resistance is felt. Resistance indicates that the fuel system is full. 13 Start the engine and run at low idle for about 5 minutes. Check for any fuel leaks and correct if leaks are found. Note: The
